

FORTY KILLED IN A COLLISION

Two Pere Marquette Trains Meet In A Head End Smash-Up At Salem, Michigan.

DETAILS ARE NOT ALL RECEIVED

First Report Said Forty Were Dead; And The Next Word Shows But Little Change In The Total--Eleven Coaches Wrecked.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Salem, Mich., July 20.—A Pere Marquette excursion train, bound from Ionia to Detroit, was wrecked this morning two miles east of here. It is reported between 30 and 40 persons were killed.

On Straight Track.
Salem, Mich., July 20.—(1:00 p. m.)—The wreck occurred on a perfectly straight piece of track and the heavy freight and passenger trains came together with enormous force.

Entirely Wrecked.
Six passenger cars containing men, women, and children were entirely wrecked. All the available doctors from Salem and neighboring villages were hurried to the scene.

Freight Crew.
General superintendent Trump says the blame for the wreck rests with the crew of the freight, which was west-bound. They had orders, Trump says, to wait at Plymouth for the excursion train, which had the right of way. Instead they proceeded on to Salem and the collision resulted.

Many Bodies.
At noon twenty-two bodies had been taken from the wreck and there are probably fifteen more. Five of the eleven cars escaped destruction.

There are scores of injured needing attention as there were about 500 persons on the train.

Are Piled Up.
Many of the freight cars are piled up in a heap of wreckage and it will take twelve hours to clear the track. It may be several hours before it is definitely known whether the bodies now recovered comprise the entire list of dead.

Surgeons Busy.
Surgeons at the scene are giving at-

SOME LAUNCHES ARE STILL MINUS LAMPS

And it is the duty of every owner to assist officers in enforcing law, says Appleby.

Contrary to the law some launches without lights are still plying Rock river after dark. This is being done in spite of the agitation given the matter by the boat club. Marshal Appleby said this morning that every effort would be made to enforce the statute.

"It is the duty of every launch-owner," he continued, "to inform us of violations and we will proceed with the prosecutions. The practice of speeding up and down the stream five or six miles an hour is dangerous. One rowboat might hit another without doing damage but a launch would cut a rowboat in two and probably result in the death of the occupants. To run a launch without a lamp is criminal negligence and one would scarcely believe the class of men who are able to own launches would be guilty of such an offense. A light on a launch gives a rowboat a chance to get out of the way and launchmen should have some consideration for others' rights and lives as theirs are being carefully guarded. It is for their benefit that statutes in the river have been enacted and Alderman W. H. Merritt will soon place a danger light at the second sandbar. People must not tamper with this light or any other danger signals. They are not of enough value to steal and to tamper with them is nothing less than maliciousness. The fact that the river will be very popular during the Chautauque demands stringent enforcement of law."

NOTED AGNOSTIC IN BRONZE READY TO BE UNVEILED

Illinois Friends of Robert G. Ingersoll Have Erected Statue at His Ol' Home in Peoria.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Peoria, Ill., July 20.—Tomorrow will be the eighth anniversary of the death of Col. Robert Ingersoll, the famous agnostic, orator, lawyer and politician, who passed away suddenly at Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., on July 22, 1899. Colonel Ingersoll made his home in Peoria for many years. To perpetuate his memory his Illinois friends and admirers have arranged for the erection of a statue in Glen Oak Park in this city. The statue is now completed and ready for unveiling.

The statue is of bronze and heroic size. The position chosen shows Col. Ingersoll standing erect in an easy, natural pose, dressed in ordinary everyday clothing. The hands are carefully and naturally placed on either hip, one of Col. Ingersoll's most characteristic attitudes and one which he unconsciously assumed as he became more and more interested in the topic he was discussing, either in court or on the lecture platform. The statue was designed by Frederick Ernest Triebler of New York. Mr. Triebler formerly lived in Peoria and during his residence here was well acquainted with Col. Ingersoll.

The statue is designed to commemorate both the military and civil career of Col. Ingersoll. The project for its erection was conducted by the Ingersoll Statue Association of Peoria. When the association was organized it was decided to expend $10,000 in its construction. Subscription books were opened and the response was immediately more than liberal, the amount decided upon being quickly subscribed. The unveiling will be attended by many of the veterans of the Eleventh Illinois Cavalry, of which Col. Ingersoll was the commander and which was principally recruited in Peoria and vicinity in 1862.

BOGUS LORD BARRINGTON ONCE MORE FACES GALLOWS

Though Every Twist And Turn Of Law To Save Him From Death Has Been Ex- hausted, He Still Has Chance To Escape.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
St. Louis, Mo., July 20.—Once again the bogus Lord Barrington, convicted of the cowardly murder of James P. McCann, his friend and patron, stands face to face with the horrors of the black cap. Every twist and turn known to the law having been exhausted in his behalf, his only hope now lies with Governor Folk. Should the Governor fail to exercise his powers of clemency the convicted murderer will be executed in the county jail at Clayton, a suburb of St. Louis, next Friday.

For nearly four years Barrington has successfully fought the death sentence and it is the opinion of many persons that he may yet escape paying the full penalty for his crime. Strong efforts are being made to have Governor Folk commute the sentence of death to one of life imprisonment. Barrington is an English subject and the British consul in St. Louis has strongly interested himself in the case. Bishop Tuttle of the Episcopal church is among the many persons of prominence and influence who have petitioned the Governor for clemency. Even if the Governor does not grant those petitions it is not improbable that he may decide upon a short reprieve in order that he may have more time in which to consider the matter.

Extraordinary Criminal Career.
Barrington's execution, if it takes place, will bring to end an extraordinary criminal career, extending throughout England and half way across the American continent. His real name is George Frederick Barton. The records show that he began his unique career when a 7-year-old boy by setting fire to a number of cottages near Brighton, England, where he was born. At the age of 16 he was given a ten years' sentence for burglary. Four years later he escaped, deceiving the police when apprehended by producing a forged pardon. The next year, in 1881, he was arrested for the murder of an army officer, whose valet he had been, but, although circumstances established a "moral certainty" of his guilt, no evidence could be secured against him, and he was released. Then he wandered in many lands, always leaving behind him a black trail of misdeeds, yet baffling suspicion by his semblance of good breeding. Women proved easy victims of his charm and his romantic tales, and his many set as easily upon his conscience as upon the conscience of a criminal.

Ohio Legislature May Create Park In Logan County, Where Early Explorer Spent Last Days And Was Buried.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Columbus, O., July 20.—The movement started in Logan county for the purchase of a piece of land in the eastern part of that county for a state park in honor of the memory of Simon Kenton has already received the endorsement of many public men and prominent citizens throughout the Buckeye State and it is highly probable that the next legislature will take the necessary steps to put the project into effect. Though Kenton's name is linked largely with the early history of Kentucky it was in Logan county, this state, that he spent his last days and was buried.

Among the daring pioneers who blazed the way for the settlement of the great west in the early days of American history no one was more picturesque than Simon Kenton. With Boone and Crockett he contributed more to the marvelous growth of American settlement and received slightly personal benefits than any of those who came later. His life was filled with adventure. As a youth he worked as a spy against Indians for

MOB BURNS KOREAN PREMIER'S HOUSE

Thousand Persons at Seoul Attacked Residence When Official Was Away.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Tokio, July 20.—A dispatch from Seoul says an enraged mob of a thousand persons attacked and burned the residence of the Korean premier. The premier was absent at the time.

At Seoul.
Seoul, July 20.—This afternoon the rioters surrounded the premier's residence but were dispersed by Japanese police with the assistance of the artillery. If the Japanese troops attack the Koreans the state of unrest will be aggravated.

A concentrated effort was made this afternoon to murder the entire cabinet. A mob of two thousand marched to the mansion of Iwanung which they sacked and burned. The same fate has been visited on the home of the prime ministers and others. At the home of the minister of war the mob was met by the Japanese guards, who repulsed the rioters, wounding and killing many.

RAISES STORM OF
 THE REPUBLICANS

ROOSEVELT'S POLICY AS TO RAILROADS IS DISCUSSED.

GENERAL WASHINGTON TALK

Matters Pertaining to Men of National Reputation—Other Bits
 of Gossip.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
 Washington, D. C., July 20.—President Roosevelt's rumored new policy
 for the control of railroads has raised a storm of protest from republican members of both houses of congress.
 As reported, the President is in favor of having the government invest in railroad bonds to an extent sufficient to give it a representative on the directories. In this way Mr. Roosevelt thinks the government would be advised of any action the railroads might seek to take, and be prepared to combat any move that might be inimical to public interest. However, this is looked upon as letting down
 the bars to government ownership
 and is repugnant to a large number of leaders in congress. Few of the party leaders have come out openly in stating their views in opposition to this reported policy, but Senator
 Burrows of Michigan is one of them.
 He is reported to have declared himself, in Detroit a few days ago, as not being in favor of the plan at all, and in fact, disapproving of it emphatically.
 The senator questions the constitutionality of such a move and declares that aside from that phase of the matter it would be nothing short of a national calamity. Any attempt to force reform along the line suggested, he is reported as saying, would be most unfortunate, and that the proper way to curb corporations which persist in violating legislation designed to benefit the general public is to enlist the power of the courts by means of injunction proceedings and make the penalties most severe. There is no official confirmation of the report that Mr. Roosevelt is seriously considering the policy of having the government invest in railroad securities, and it is believed that he is not contemplating such a radical step.

"Tom" Johnson, mayor of Cleveland, and democrat of national reputation, can issue his own money without let or hindrance from Uncle Sam.
 The matter came up this week because Commissioner of Internal Revenue Capers, and was so decided. The case is unique, in that Mayor Johnson
 as head of the Depositors' Savings & Trust Company of Cleveland issues scrip which bears a vignette likeness of himself, and is popularly known as "Tom Johnson money." As a matter of fact the scrip is really only certificates of deposits, but they are negotiable and are entering into local transactions in competition with the money of Uncle Sam. Some time ago Commissioner Capers directed that a levy of the ten per cent tax imposed upon state bank circulation be made.
 Through his lawyer, Mr. Johnson made objection, with the result that the order was rescinded, or, rather, suspended. If circulation of the scrip does not come too heavy, it is probable that it will go untaxed entirely.

Reports reaching Washington from the Mississippi, Missouri, and Ohio valleys indicate that a remarkable boom is setting in in the matter of shipbuilding, and that saw mills and ship yards that have been idle for a quarter of a century are beginning to feel the effect of the new order of things. This activity is due entirely to the aroused determination of the American people, through congress and the government, to develop the waterways of the country. This sentiment was spurred by the disastrous freight congestion of last fall, when numbers of western states suffered cold and hunger by reason of the inability of the railroads to transport coal and food, and farmers of other states, with the wealth of the fields in their granaries, were actually without money because the means of getting their products to market was lacking.
 The National Rivers & Harbors commissioners, who have been working for a number of years to crystallize this sentiment and to bring forcibly before congress
 the urgent necessity for undertaking
 such improvement work. There is no question whatever in the minds of administration officials that an era of unprecedented prosperity, which will pale into insignificance the present
 piping times, will be inaugurated as soon as the different sections of the country are brought into closer and cheaper communication. John A. Fox, special director of the National Rivers & Harbors commission, is at present visiting the larger cities in the upper Mississippi valley. He has been in Washington after a trip through New England in which he reports that he found the "Yankees" fully awake to the necessity of developing their rivers and harbors to care for the increasing commerce. He is in the up-

Those who listened to the sound of breaking heads and the clash of arms
 in Ohio, are wondering now what means the deep silence that enshrouds
 the Buckeye State. Of course, Secretary Taft is in Canada on his vacation, and President Roosevelt is plighing hay and impaling "nature fairs"
 at Sagamore Hill, and neither of these political heavyweights is expected to keep his armor on. But Joseph Benson Foraker has developed a tactfulness which is almost ominous. "Whether this deep silence means that Ohioans have settled their domestic differences without calling in the police, or whether both sides are resting in their arms and plotting for future fray, remains to be seen. E. G. Johnson, of Elyria, a prominent Ohio lawyer and a well-known republican worker, is in town this week, declaring that the talk about the elimination of Senator Foraker has died out completely, and that he will have practically no opposition in his return to the Senate. Mr.
 Johnson declares also that the Taft Presidential boom has fattened out to a point approaching collapse.

"More men" is the cry of the navy department. Uncle Sam's big fighting ships are in sorry condition by reason of the light enlistments. This week under orders issued by the department, almost the entire force of the battleship Iowa was transferred to the battleship Vermont. The Iowa, which is at the Norfolk navy yard, has been placed in reserve, in company with the Indiana and a number of cruisers. The situation is really becoming acute, and although the department is using every means in its power to awaken interest in the navy as a profession, the young men needed to man the guns on the floating fortresses fail to take the bait
 which is offered in the way of moving, picture shows and large, candy
 and alluring paintings of war vessels and their natty crews. Times are too good on shore and work too plentiful
 it would appear, to induce the young men of the nation to take to the sea.

If you are running short of money
 these days, don't worry. While the sunnily never has been equal to the demand, it is being turned out in lesser proportion than usual. Uncle Sam's money-makers who turn out fortunes in greenbacks every day in the week are taking a rest. A large number of the employees of the bureau of engraving and printing and the treasury department are taking their annual vacation, and each division of the two departments is minus a number of its expert money manufacturers.
 Because of this, the work has been cut down considerably and the output of bills is correspondingly lessened. However, this could not fall on better times for in its last report on the financial standing of the country, the treasury figures show that the per capita holdings of the United States never was greater in the history of the country.

Veterans of Ohio regiments participated this week in the unveiling of a handsome monument to the "One Hundred Day Men" of the Buckeye state.
 The shaft was erected in Battleground cemetery, and the day of its unveiling fell upon the 43rd anniversary of the battle of Fort Stevens. Out of the thirty thousand men contributed by Ohio, a regiment was told off to occupy the northern fortifications of Washington. This regiment checked Confederate leader practically held the national capital at bay. The Ohioans held him off until the Sixth Corps
 came up and Early was forced to retreat along the Shenandoah valley.

ELKS TEETH STILL OFFICIAL EMBLEM

Grand Lodge of the Order in Philadelphia Decides to Wait for a Report.

Janesville Elks having elks' teeth as emblems will be interested in the closing session of the grand lodge of Elks in Philadelphia Friday afternoon
 when they reversed the previous action of the convention in recommending the abolition of elks' teeth as the emblem of the order, defeated retiring Grand Exalted Ruler Melvin's resolution on the subject, and after a bitter discussion, full of personalities,
 compromised by naming a committee
 to investigate the alleged ruthless slaughter of the elk and report to the grand lodge next year.

According to grand lodge members,
 this action means that nothing will be done.

Henry Melvin announced that the investigating committee would be appointed by the new grand ruler, John K. Tener.

It was when the resolution discouraging the use of elks' teeth as emblems was introduced and Mr. Melvin arose to speak in its behalf that grand lodge members evinced their attitude toward the proposition.

Storm of Disapproval Breaks.
 Mr. Melvin said that since his arrival here he had received hundreds of telegrams from men of every rank
 the country over indorsing his action
 in this matter and expressing the hope that the lodge would not adjourn without taking action.

He had proceeded no further when cries of "No! No! We will not pass it!" "We want to wear them!" came from all parts of the house. The meeting then became riotous and every time Mr. Melvin tried to speak delegates would cry: "We want our teeth!"

"What do you want to save the elk for, anyway?" shouted one grand lodge member. "Ain't they just wild animals?"

Then Mr. Melvin, his face flushed and gesticulating violently, called into his opponents.

Retiring Leader Flays Members.
 The slaughter of the elk is the act of murderers and savages," he cried, "and a shame to the principles of our order. You're hypocrites. You don't understand the first principles of our order if you insist upon slaughtering this noble animal for the sake of wearing its teeth. It is unthinkable that civilized men should hesitate for a moment on such a proposition."

The lodge remained silent during

the rest of his address.
 Several seconding speeches were made, after which those who want to retain the teeth took the floor. They gave no reasons for their opposition
 save that they considered the teeth
 an ornament and intended to wear them.

Many gave as justification for their views the slaughter of birds for women's hats.

FOUR QUESTIONS TO BE VOTED ON NOW

The Next State Election Will Decide
 the Constitutional Amendments.

Four proposed amendments to the constitution will be submitted to a vote in the next general election as a result of action of the legislative session just closed and of the 1905 session. Three of the amendments are of importance, relating to a state income tax, state aid for roads and suffrage. The income tax amendment will be uniform, if adopted. The one amendment will provide that the state can appropriate funds at any time
 for building or improvement of highways. If the third amendment is adopted none but fully naturalized foreigners can vote after 1912 in Wisconsin. The fourth amendment is of minor importance and extends the time which the governor has to sign or veto a bill. There are a number of other amendments proposed by the 1907 legislature but these must pass
 the 1909 session before being submitted to a vote.

AVON DITCH IS BEING DUG NOW

SOME FOUR THOUSAND ACRES
 WILL BE RECLAIMED.

WORK ACTUALLY BEGINS

Work Will Be Watched With Interest
 Throughout the Entire County.

What is the most important step towards the reclamation of thousands of acres of Rock county has been actually begun in the township of Avon, the extreme southwestern town lying on the Illinois-Wisconsin state line. After two years spent in litigation in the courts as to the methods of procedure and taxation of costs the work of digging the big ditch has been commenced and by fall it is expected
 it will be ready for actual use.

While it directly affects but twenty-five farms its influence will be widespread and if successful another year will see more ditches of similar construction dug which will eventually drain thousands of acres of now useless land. In an early day the western portion of Rock county was the course of some mighty stream whose course was hollowed out by huge glaciers in the ice age. Gradually the mighty river has divided down to the placid Rock, the Sugar and other smaller tributaries. It is the great valley left by the progress of the glaciers, now low and marshy in wet weather, that is to be ultimately drained. The Avon ditch is the first.
 It will reclaim some five thousand acres of land, will cost twenty-two thousand dollars to dig and a hundred dollars a year to keep in good condition afterwards. It will create a new body of water, increase the volume of the Sugar River where it empties into the Rock just this side of the Illinois state line and leave a fertile valley fit
 for the growth of the richest of crops.
 The assessed cost of the ditch lays with the twenty-five farms to be benefitted. They range from $10.03 to $425.70 and are to be paid in installments of five years. The commission is bonded for ten thousand dollars
 and has borrowed the money to construct the works.

The canal itself will be six miles long when completed. Its average depth will be five and a half feet and a six foot cut opening at the top and a twenty foot opening at the bottom. Starting near the Green county line it runs through the townships of Avon in a snakey route following the contours of the higher lands. In some places it almost parallels the Sugar River a few rods distant and again is several rods further south. It empties into the Sugar river just before it crosses the state line where it unites with the Rock a little further on.

The work is being done under contract by a Chicago engineering firm
 and is being closely watched by farmers from all parts of the county who seek similar methods to relieve them
 of their low lands, flooded at every high water an useless except for hay.
 This is true of a vast territory in the towns of Center, Union, Porter and Magnolia where the glacial drift which hollowed out and widened the Rock river into Lake Koshkonong in Jefferson county is continued. The projected plan to redeem this vast territory is estimated will cost twenty-five thousand dollars and will would empty into the Rock river.

Janesville Daily Gazette, Saturday,
 July 20, 1867.—Election of Alderman.
 The special election for alderman

 as follows:—J. E. Skinner 73, Cyrus

A Good Joke.—A man living near Monterey has been troubled for some time past by some hogs which have invaded his garden on various occasions. Getting his grit fairly up he finally concluded to take them to the pound, which he did. A few days after he missed his own hogs and upon going to the pound found his animals
 there—the same he had impounded.
 It cost him $3 to get them out.

Gored By A Furious Steer.—A fatted steer, belonging to Mr. Lynch, and which was brought into town yesterday, became furious and when near the Rock River iron works made a dash at G. H. Palmer who was redering some assistance to those in charge of the animal. Fortunately the peremptory tender of a couple of ugly looking horns was not received with full effect by Mr. P., one passing each side of his body. A horn penetrated his coat and shirt and entered his right arm about an inch. The blow felled Mr. P. to the ground when the enraged animal commenced stamping him, and he only escape serious injury by crawling under a box close at hand. A man from the shop, who came out to aid Mr. P., was set upon but defended himself with a large file
 which he held in his right hand.

The Closing Evening.—The second soiree and reception of the ladies of the Congregational church wound up
 last evening with a blaze of enthusiasm. In the voting contest Deacon Wright was awarded the cane and Miss Wilson the pitcher, by the following vote: Cane—Deacon Wright

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT

The old doctor who was "death on his heels" gained his reputation through an old bottle which was used in treating diseases both inherited and acquired. When he struck a case of fits, the patient usually recovered in spite of the remedy.

The policy pursued by the ancient practitioner is being very closely followed by the people's representative today in dealing with railroads. The one panacea for all railway ills is the two-cent fare, and the fifteen or twenty states which have adopted this drastic measure view with complacency their work.

"The greatest good to the greatest number," is supposed to be the principle which influences all reform legislation. This does not always mean the masses but it does mean the greatest number of people interested in any particular measure.

In dealing with railroads the notion seems to prevail that the American people are all travelers, and that most of them spend their time on the road. This is a mistaken notion, for only a minority of them ever patronize either the passenger or freight department of a railroad.

There are three or four classes of people which make up the great bulk of railway passengers, and none of these will be benefited by a uniform two-cent fare.

The first is the "bobo," who rides on the cross beam or "blind end." He never complains of rates.

The second is the "commercial traveler," who spends his life on the road. He has traveled at a two-cent rate for a dozen years or more.

The third is the commuter, who represents a great army of suburbanites that spend from one to two hours every day on railway trains. They pay, on the average, from one to one and a half cents a mile, and contribute at this rate from $50 to $150 a year, to the passenger department.

The fourth are the well-to-do long-distance travelers, who enjoy the benefits of through rates from coast to coast, or from the north to south, which never exceed two cents a mile.

When the farmer or occasional traveler makes these trips he waits for an excursion, or buys a land-seeker's ticket at from 25 to 33 per cent of the regular price.

The delegates to conventions, or the state and county fair visitor, are always favored with a rate of two cents a mile or less.

The first four classes make up the travelers of the country, and they are the ones most directly interested in railway legislation. The commercial tourist will continue to travel for two cents a mile, but if the commuter is compelled to pay the flat rate, and he should, if justice to the railroads is considered, it will prove a hardship to a class of travelers who represent more numerically than all other classes combined.

The masses, who have clamored for a two-cent fare, will of course not object to the abolishment of excursion rates and land-seeker's tickets. They have preached the doctrine of equality, and can not do less than practice it cheerfully.

What will the railroads do, in the meantime? They will make more money on a two-cent flat rate to everybody, than they ever made before, and the people who suffer from the deal will have the satisfaction of knowing that popular sentiment, when influenced by ignorance and prejudice, is never right or just.

The notion prevails, in the minds of a great many people, that public sentiment is always right, on all questions, but it is a false notion, and as full of holes as a skimmer. Interview the first dozen men you meet on the railway question, and you discover that nine out of the twelve have a grievance and are so prejudiced and ignorant that they can't talk intelligently on the subject. Ask the same dozen men about the weather and a majority of them will tell you how it ought to be and how they would have it if they had the making.

Put 100 or more of these average men in the legislature, and nothing has been added to their stature but the title. If they were ignorant on questions of public policy before, they are just as ignorant now, and if their minds were warped with prejudice, elevation to office has added to the deformity.

Thus it happens that all sorts of freak laws are passed. Down in the state of Texas, most of the old line fire insurance companies have been driven from the state by this kind of legislation, and in our own state the life companies are likely to retreat from the field, for the same reason. The wise solons were so ignorant concerning the question of mutual life insurance companies, that they failed to recognize the fact that this class of companies have no money except trust funds, held for the protection of policy-holders, and when they placed a tax of three per cent on premiums, they said to the people, you must pay three dollars on every hundred that you lay by for your estate. This amounts to an inheritance tax in advance, and should be considered by the people when they vote on the question.

The pass system was doubtless a great evil, but its abolishment added to the railway treasury millions of dollars. The question of railway fares was also regarded as an evil, and that has been regulated without regard to justice or common sense. In the thickly populated states, a two-cent fare may be ample, but there are scores of trains running in Wisconsin, and other western states, as a part of the great railway system, where the passenger receipts would hardly pay for the fuel consumed. The removal of these trains would be considered a hardship, by the people who live along the line.

There is a limit to reform, the same as there is a limit to the indulgence of any other excess. The people in the end pay the penalty, and there will be several scores to settle when the present epidemic subsides. No more trust goods in Texas, is another edict of the last legislature. This means that sugar, Standard Oil products, and a score of other necessities, can not legally be handled in the state.

The men who passed this food law have the satisfaction of knowing that they also compelled the hotels of the state to equip their beds with sheets 9 feet long. This ought to help some. In the meantime the Wisconsin tax commission is trying to figure out what they are on earth for. Ask the governor.

MAKE REDUCTION IN COST OF SHIPPING

Western Railroads Would Prevent a Coal Famine Next Winter.

To stimulate the purchase and shipment of coal during the summer months, when the greatest number of cars for this purpose are available, the Interstate Commerce commission, at the request of the Union Pacific railroad and the Oregon Short Line, has especially authorized a reduction of twenty-five cents per ton on coal shipped to Washington, Idaho and Nevada between July 15th and September 1st.

For the last two months officials of the Harriman lines have been endeavoring to induce western coal dealers to make their shipments this summer in order to avoid a recurrence of last winter's fuel scarcity. An additional inducement to dealers to help in preventing another fuel scarcity, which was particularly distressing in the states affected by the commission's new order, dealers have now secured a reduction of rate from which they will derive a considerable additional profit.

The principal difficulty in supplying coal in the western states during the winter months when fuel was most needed, grew partly out of shortage of equipment and partly from the fact that orders were delayed until weather conditions made freight movement slow and difficult. In Nevada at one time, not only was all the available wood supply consumed, but for miles around many towns sage brush was cut and sold for fuel.

So keen is the desire of the railroad to tempt dealers and others to ship a large supply of fuel during this summer, that the Union Pacific has taken the unusual step of applying through the Interstate Commerce commission to be allowed to make this large reduction in its rate in order to get the cooperation of dealers in shipping fuel now when the railroad is in good shape to handle it promptly.

Man's Walk Shows Age.

"You can tell a man's age by his hands," said one of the girls. "They get knotty and veined and terrible. They get old sooner than his face." "You can tell it most of all, I think," said the woman, "by his walk. I know a man who has been one of the brightest minds of his time, who is still the best company I know; but the other day when I saw him come toward me at his home along the hall it made me awfully sad to see the heavy, old, old way in which he walked."

KICKERS' KOLUM FULL OF KICKS

SEVERAL COMMUNICATIONS ON DIFFERENT SUBJECTS OF CITY LIFE.

THE BEAR PROBLEM AGAIN

Thirty Dollars is Already Subscribed for the Purchase of the Two Little Fellows.

Several articles designed for the Kickers' Kolum have been received in the Gazette office during the past week. They are massed together in today's issue. Aside from the article to be found below relative to the purchase of the two bears now at the police department, several other communications have been received in which money is offered to purchase them, erect a suitable den for them, that the Janesville public can enjoy them. The plan seems such a good one that the Gazette endorses it and will start the list with ten dollars for such a fund.

Other Subscriptions. It is estimated that in the neighborhood of two hundred dollars will be needed to purchase the bears and build the cage. Aside from the ten dollars offered by the Gazette the writer of the following communication offers ten dollars more and two other citizens have signified their intention of giving five dollars each. This makes thirty dollars in all. The Gazette offers its office for the receipt of any contributions to the fund and also suggests that subscriptions be paid at the banks and drugstores. The Gazette will be glad to credit the subscribers with the sums they donate and anything from fifty cents up would be a welcome addition to the fund.

Delight Crowds. The two bears are now in their wooden cage near the city hall and are the center of attraction for many, both young and old. Each evening they are given an airing and several hundred people avail themselves of the opportunity of viewing them at close quarters. They are nice little fellows, very well behaved and they should be preserved for the future enjoyment of the citizens by being placed in a large-sized cage in the Courthouse park or some other central spot. If any reader of the Gazette is inclined to boost the game along they can leave their subscription at any of the places mentioned.

The Letter. Kickers' Kolum: What crime have those two young bears committed that they must be confined in their present dark cell? Kindliest considerations are due and all who have watched them grow from tiny cubs appreciate the efforts and care that has been lavished ungrudgingly for their comfort. But they have outgrown their present quarters and no one can watch them peeping from their limited home without wishing to arrange quarters suitable for display, light, sunshine and exercise as well as sleeping box. Now, if there are fifteen really earnest humane people in the city (you don't wish those who have their cars to put up the money for you?) who love nature, respect animal rights and appreciate the educational value of such rare pets, some few will come up that we may proceed along proper lines with means and correct plans for the present even though they may be disposed of later. My address at the Gazette and $10 toward the project when you call meaning business.

SYMPATHY.

The Fountains. To The Editor: People should be taught to respect the rights of others at the public drinking places in the city. The carrying away of cups from the fountains by young boys and some full-grown should be punished. Using cups as a hammer to repair bicycles, encouraged and protected by older persons to the injury of the cups and annoyance of others is something that should not be tolerated. Some one should have authority to stop it.

"COLD WATER DELEGATE."

The Parks. To the Editor: Our public parks are becoming a lounging place for a gang of young hoodlums during the day that annoy persons who go there to enjoy the cool breezes and find rest from the heat. Offenders have bottles of something stronger than pop in their pockets, which they drink from. The absence of policemen aids them in their boldness and they feel free to insult people by their coarseness and talk filthy language not fit for children to hear as they play around. At nights the police keep close watch on these breathing places and they are orderly, but during the day they are free from police interference. A good day policeman would be a great addition to the present efficient force.

"A. PARKER."

Y. M. C. A. Meeting: The Gospel meeting for men at the Y. M. C. A. at 3 p. m. Sunday will be of special interest as everyone present will be given an opportunity to take part. The music is always interesting. The orchestra and quartet will be present. All men invited.

Haydn's Grave.

The city council of Vienna has made formal overtures to the authorities of Eisenstadt looking toward the removal of the bones of Josef Haydn to Vienna, "where," the city fathers say, "a fitting resting place will be provided by the city." This will be near the graves of Beethoven and Schubert. Haydn was 77 years old when he died in Vienna in 1809. He was buried in a little cemetery near the Hundsturm line, and at the head of the grave was placed a small stone, at the expense of his pupil, Sigmund Knight of Neukomm. The stone bore only the name "Haydn," and the inscription "Non omnis moriar." In 1820 Prince Esterhazy had the body removed to Eisenstadt, where Haydn had been music director from 1760 to 1790, and there an elaborate monument with ample inscription was erected.

BOOSTER'S PLEDGE.

An exchange offers the following unique and appropriate booster's pledge. Clip it out and paste it in your memorandum book. Refer to it often:

"On my word of honor, I here and now declare, that so long as I remain a resident of this community it will be my constant aim to boost it all the time and every time."

"I will do all I can for any public work that has the good of the community for its object."

"I realize that if this community is good enough to make my money it is the proper place to spend it in again."

"I am resolved that I will buy everything at home that I can and will never go further than necessary."

Are You Good at Figures?

If so, get busy and figure out how many tons of gold ore are crushed yearly by 22 mills with a capacity of 1000 tons a day each. The value in gold will average $50.00 per ton. All the mills are located on Clear Creek and have been crushing gold ore since 1859—that's 48 years. They have, and are still losing 30 per cent of all the GOLD THE ORE CONTAINS, it goes off into the creek with the slime, and if you can devise a way to stop this loss of 30 PER CENT OF GOLD, YOU CAN MAKE A MILLION OR MORE. Now figure out how much lost gold is in the creek. It's 4 miles long and 300 feet wide. Our engineers claim the losses from mills are from 5 to 7 millions of fine gold. The only way to get this gold is to use steam shovel dredges and put the sand into tanks and cyanide the gold out. We incorporated May 29th, 1907, and will be at work inside of 90 days. 60 days from starting plant we will pay dividends, and keep it up MONTHLY for ten years to come.

Hard Water.

A farm woman in Pennsylvania once said: "I never hear anyone sing 'The Old Oaken Bucket' without a shudder." For 15 years she had done the cooking and washing for a family of six with no other water supply than what she had hauled out of a well nearly 30 feet deep by means of a bucket. Baths in water were almost out of the question, and even in the summer they were regarded as an occasion of more than ordinary importance, for which preparations had to be made hours ahead of the great event. A cubic foot of water weighs 62½ pounds, and in all these years the number of tons this woman had lifted had made poetic allusions to "ironbound" and "moss-covered" buckets a good deal like saying "rope" to a man about to be hanged.—Farming.

FURTHER DETAILS OF TRUSTS SUIT

THE TOBACCO LEAF OF NEW YORK TALKS.

ON GOVERNMENT'S POSITION

Goes Into Details Relative to the Suit and Its Effects.

The bill against the American Tobacco Co. and its allied companies by attorneys for the government last week contains the following interesting information concerning the organization of the United Cigar Stores Co., says the Tobacco Leaf:

"The American Tobacco Co. holds $600,000 of the $900,000 common stock, all the preferred $750,000, and $2,850,000 of the company's (United Cigar Stores Co.) bonds."

The United Cigar Stores Co., through stock ownership, controls the following companies engaged in selling and distributing tobacco products: United Cigar Stores Co., of Chicago, Ill., capital outstanding, $389,500. United Cigar Stores Co., of Providence, R. I., capital outstanding, $95,000.

The Royal Co. of New York city, capital outstanding, $100,000.

C. A. Whelan & Co., Inc., of Syracuse, capital outstanding, $50,000.

United Cigar Stores Co., agency of New York, capital outstanding, $1,000. United Merchants Realty and Improvement Co. of Rhode Island, capital outstanding, $500,000.

Moebis Cigar Stores Co., of Detroit, Mich., capital outstanding, $10,000.

Wm. Baeder & Co., New York, capital outstanding, $25,000.

The output of the American Cigar Co. for 1906 as alleged in the bill follows:

Manufactured in its own name:

Cigars 558,560,144
Cigarettes 1,182,400,519

Cheroots 188,642,511

Total 748,202,655

Little cigars 116,607,226

Manufactured by American Stogie Co. 97,711,372

Manufactured by the Havana-American Co. 8,620,310

Manufactured by five Cuban companies controlled by the Havana Tobacco Co.:

Cigars 131,000,000
Cigarettes 1,352,400,519

The report of the treasurer for 1906 shows—

Capital stock outstanding, $20,000,000

Outstanding gold notes, 10,000,000

Net earnings for the year, $2,232,378.85

Total surplus, 5,477,677.08

Of the organization of the National Cigar Stands Co. and its relation to the American Cigar Co., the Department of Justice says:

"Petitioner is not able to state the facts in detail, but alleges that by financing the same through loans and extensive credits the American Cigar Co. in effect controls a great number of jobbing and retail establishments throughout the different states of the Union. Such control has been acquired with the special purpose to exclude all competitors from a fair opportunity to market their goods. Among the concerns so controlled and being used as part of the general scheme is the National Cigars Stands Co., a New Jersey corporation, which now has places of business in the drug stores of many cities, and is diligently seeking to establish others throughout the different states."

The suit which the government has brought to enjoin the American Tobacco Co. from continuing operation in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law is founded almost wholly on the testimony and evidence furnished by the officers of the tobacco trust, together with the agreements, letters and books of the various corporations operating under the direction of the American Tobacco Co. The data contained in the bill of presentment, therefore, is as nearly correct as it is possible to make it.

It is learned the past week that the officers of the American Tobacco Co. expected that the next move of the government would be another criminal action. A New York jury having recently failed to find the officers of the MacAndrews & Forbes Co. and the J. S. Young Co., subsidiary companies of the American Tobacco Co., guilty of a criminal charge under the provisions of the Sherman anti-trust law, the officers of the trust expected to win an easy victory on similar charges in other cases to be brought by the federal authorities. Information, therefore, was freely given. The sudden change of policy by the government and the commencement of a suit to enjoin the trust from further operations with the suggestion that the courts appoint a receiver to wind up the affairs of the defendant companies came as a very great surprise to the magnates at 111 Fifth avenue.

Three Given Sentences: Thomas Nash, Frank Grogan and Charlie Flynn were picked up in an intoxicated condition in the railway yards last evening.

In Municipal court this morning all three pleaded guilty to the charge of drunkenness. Nash and Grogan were given fines and costs of $4.10 or eight days in jail and Flynn $2.10 or six days. All were unable to pay and so will sojourn for a time behind the cool, shady bars of the county bastille. Flynn had never before been in the local court. He said he came here from Chicago to take a job at the new railway yards, but on being disappointed there proceeded to escape his sorrow via the booze route.

Last night was probably the hottest of the present summer, but despite that fact thirty couples of young people enjoyed a private dance at East Side Odd Fellows' hall. The same coterie that conducted a series of similar private parties during the last winter were interested in the affair of last evening and as usual all present spent the evening delightfully. Roy Carter furnished the music.

NOT A GRAFT.

I wish the people of Janesville to bear in mind that The Compendium of Astrology is not a money-making scheme and is supported entirely by a percentage of the greater amounts earned to our students who apply our freely given instructions.

Yet above all are we glad when dealing with those subjects of vital importance to human life, prosperity, happiness and greater well being and superior usefulness of our posterity without regard to sordid commercialism. It is Criminal Sacrilege to apply this Divine Science to the greater selfishness of the Intellectually Educated whose heart knows no sympathy for human sorrows and whose ears hear not the call of duty.

Only the unselfish few who work for the good of Humanity can remember and keep separate and comprehend and use the 228 required departments of this Science, nor can the grafter learn the Star Alphabet and enjoy the knowledge revealed thereby.

The Compendium is a 165,000 word index, applicable to every individual, to every present and future possibility and the cultivating of the most noble qualities given to man.

If you wish to know your fortune or lucky days or your abilities for cornering money and necessities and how best to perpetrate ignorance and crime you are already dead and it's too late to call.

Two Prizes to be Awarded the Best Decorated Launch in the Big Parade.

Under the auspices of the Janesville Power Boat Club a water fete is to be held on the evening of July 29th with a prize offered for the best decorated launch given by the club and a second prize offered by the Janesville Chautauqua Association which will be in session at that time. It promises to be one of the sights of the summer and if present plans are carried out will be a beautiful sight.

The Janesville Power Boat Club has a membership of forty and it is expected that all these will be in the parade with their launches. George McKee is Commodore of the club, J. C. Harlow vice-commodore, and Harry Nowlan secretary and treasurer.

Among the new boats put on the river this summer are those owned by Charles Graves, Harry Whitmore, Harry Nowlan, Charles Schwartz, Charles H. Weirich, Fred Burpee, John Allen, Frank Dewey and H. L. LAD DIVES 60 FEET TO WIN 25 CENT BET

To win a wager of "two bits", Harry Nelson, about 16 years of age, of this city, dived off from the North-Western bridge at the south edge of the city last night into 10 feet of water. In his aerial flight of some 60 feet young Nelson turned a somersault before he struck the water and then swam out ready for another dive. He jumped twice from the high bridge after his dive. His dare-devil stunt was the result of a wager of 25 cents with another lad that the other one was afraid to dive into the water from the bridge. The other lad is said to have lost his nerve when he took a glance at the water beneath him and refused to leap into the stream below. A large crowd of boys and men were at the bridge, commonly known as the Monterey bridge, to witness the feat.

DROVE OFF WITH MAYOR'S HORSE

OUTFIT THIS MORNING.

HAD ANOTHER RIG EARLIER

Was Arrested in Monterey on Information 'Phoned to Station by Chaucey K. Millmore.

Kemp Kehoe of Buffalo, or at least a stranger calling himself by that name and address, this morning took the liberty of appropriating to his own use two horses and carriages, one of which belongs to Mayor S. B. Heddles. He was arrested just after he deserted the city executive's outfit in Monterey and is now being held at the city hall lock-up. It is not probable that he will be charged with horse stealing but his unseemly actions, whether done intentionally or not, will be punished. He is about twenty or twenty-two years of age and claims to have come from Buffalo to Chicago as laborer on a freight boat. From the Windy City he shipped here and has been employed at the new yards of the Chicago & Northwestern railway.

His First Escape. All day yesterday Kehoe loafed about the business section of the city. This morning he was around again and as Floyd Murdoch was sitting in the office of his feed store on Wall street Kehoe jumped into the delivery wagon and drove off. Mr. Murdoch noticed the strange proceedings when the outfit rounded the corner onto Franklin street. He called the delivery boy, Will Sullivan, and sent him after the disappearing rig. The driver had whipped the heavy work animal into full speed and Sullivan did not overtake the runaway until South River street was reached. After a wordy parley, in which Kehoe claimed to own the horse and wagon, the property was given up and the stranger offered to buy the drinks. Sullivan took the horse instead.

Horse Left Near Bridge. About ten o'clock Kehoe repeated his strange performance, using Mayor S. B. Heddles' horse and road cart. He unhitched the animal from near the corner of North Jackson and West Milwaukee streets and drove to Monterey. On his way he met Chaucey K. Millmore, who recognized the outfit and believed the driver to be intoxicated. He immediately notified Chief Appleby by phone. The Marshal phoned Sheriff Fisher of the supposed horse stealing, asked the Beloit officers to watch for a stranger driving in from Janesville and sent the local policeman on the trail. Mr. Millmore picked up Officer Brown and drove him to Monterey. There they found the horse and carriage near a telephone pole south of the bridge.

A Nurse's Story

If you are a sufferer from headache, neuralgia, or pain from any cause you should read the following letter from a nurse.

"For sometime I have felt it my duty to write you. I was having my doctor twice every week for headache. All he did for me was to give me something to ease the pain. Sometimes the pain was so severe that I could not speak, and members of my family stood over me and gave me medicine every fifteen minutes until I was relieved. A sample of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills was sent me. I read the circular very carefully, and found my case described exactly. 'The pain in the head began to ache. I took the Pain Pills according to directions and I felt I was getting better, so I sent to the drugstore for a box and took them. The pain was no more. I felt much better than I was about the house all the afternoon. I have not had a doctor for your money since. When he met me sometime after he wanted to know how I was, and I told him what I had done, and he replied: 'If you have found anything that will help you, stick to it,' and so I have. Being a nurse I have recommended them to a great many grateful people. One case I will mention. I saw a doctor go to a neighbor every week for months because she had such a headache; but for a long time I dared not suggest anything to her. One day I met her and I gave her a half a box of Anti-Pain Pills and she said she and her husband had no doctor since. She says they are a great blessing to her. I told her to tell you that I am about them before.' I could tell you of many similar cases."

JUDGE HAWLEY IN ELOQUENT SPEECH

ADDRESSES JURY FOR STATE IN THE HAYWOOD CASE.

HEARD BY LARGE CROWD

Court Excludes All Evidence Bearing on Alleged Counter Conspiracy Against Miners' Federation.

Boise, Idaho, July 20.—The field for argument both for the prosecution and defense of William D. Haywood has been limited by Judge Wood, who in a decision handed down Friday removed from consideration of the jury all evidence bearing on the alleged conspiracy of mine owners and others against the Western Federation of Miners.

Judge Wood decided that the defense of Haywood had made no legal connection of the Mine Owners' association, the Citizens' Alliance of Colorado and the Pinkerton Detective agency, as laying a foundation for the evidence introduced by the defense to show that the charge against Haywood and his codefendants is the outcome of a conspiracy to exterminate the federation.

Immediately following the announcement of this decision argument commenced. Judge Hawley, leading counsel for the state, spoke for two hours and fifteen minutes of the afternoon session, the morning session having been adjourned to enable the judge to prepare his decision.

Big Crowd to Hear Hawley.

Every seat in the courtroom was occupied. Outside, in the enclosure reserved for attorneys and newspaper men, were many persons prominent in public and private life, and a sprinkling of women in summer costumes added color to the auditorium space. Gov. Frank Gooding, ex-Gov. Morrison, a number of the officers of the state administration, Capt. James McFarland, Julian P. Steunenberg, a son of the murdered ex-governor, and a large gathering of members of the bar of Idaho and adjoining states were present. Haywood sat behind six of his counsel. His wife, in her invalid chair, was placed on his right and his eldest daughter sat beside her mother. Haywood's half sister and stepfather occupied seats close to the defense group.

Mr. Hawley, who has been ill for several days as the result of the strain of the long trial, commenced his address in a voice almost inaudible to anyone except the jury. He apologized for this, however, explaining that he had feared he would be unable, owing to ill health, to deliver a prolonged address. Mr. Hawley is the Nestor of the Boise bar. He is a man of impressive presence and aggressive speech. Warming to his subject, his voice lost all trace of weakness.

Forceful, Eloquent Address.

His address after the opening statement, in which he explained that he had "none of the grace of words that constitute an orator," was at times eloquently impassioned but without a plain analysis of the case. He characterized the case as the "most important ever given to a jury in the United States," and urged the jury to a serious consideration of the responsibility placed upon it. His denunciation of the defendant and his co-conspirators as the "worst band of criminals that ever infested any section of this country," was forceful, and his eulogy of ex-Gov. Steunenberg eloquent in the extreme.

Angered by Interruptions.

Counsel for the defense repeatedly interrupted Mr. Hawley with protests and objections, but these only seemed to stir him to greater effort. Once or twice he turned to Clarence Darrow and faced him with a roar of anger, and at another time he said: "It does not lie in the mouth of counsel to find excuse for these awful crimes."

Mr. Hawley will continue his argument Saturday when court meets at 9:30 and will probably conclude before adjournment.

Judge Wood has notified counsel for the defense that he expects argument for their side to commence Monday.

Four Cruisers to Come Home.

Washington, July 20.—The armored cruisers West Virginia, Colorado, Pennsylvania and Maryland, of Admiral Dayton's Pacific fleet, are expected to start from Cavite for the United States in 10 days or two weeks. They may stop en route at Japanese ports; this, it was stated at the navy department today, is optional with the officer in command. The four ships are to form one of the cruiser divisions of the Pacific fleet.

A Bold Step.

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broadcast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Thus he has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits, and made them medicines of known composition.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the strict scrutiny.

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, torpid liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it, in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of the medicine, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same. From this little book it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral acids or other poisonous or injurious agents and that they are made from native medicinal roots of great value; also that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, nervous, over-worked, run-down, nervous and debilitated women, were employed long years ago, by the Indians for similar ailments affecting their squaws. In fact, one of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was known to the Indians as "Squaw-Root." Our knowledge of the uses of not a few of our most valuable native medicinal plants was gained from the Indians. As made up by improved and exact processes, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, antenatal and postnatal, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

Take Your Choice—a Drug or a Food

Physicians of the highest scientific attainments unite in declaring that coffee is a form of slow poison—a pernicious drug. They point out that it darkens the blood, clogs the liver, colors the skin, weakens the heart's action and ruins the digestion of all who drink it. On the other hand, doctors declare that a pure bottled beer, properly brewed from Malt and Hops, and fully aged, like

Gund's Peerless Beer

is a most wholesome and delicious beverage. Gund's Peerless Beer being made from malted barley, is essentially a "food-stuff" of high nutritive value. If drunk regularly with meals it clears the liver, enriches the blood, brightens the skin, stimulates the gastric secretions and wonderfully promotes the digestive process. Thus it is that the beer-drinking races of men are the healthiest and in the forefront of the World's progress.

PROFESSOR MOLESCHOTT, the celebrated German savant, says: "A good beer is as nutritious as fruit. Fermented liquors taken in moderation increase the secretions of the digestive juices and promotes the assimilation of food."

PEERLESS BEER won the Gold Medal at the St. Louis Exposition for highest excellence. Contains less than 3 1/2 % of alcohol, therefore is really a temperance drink. Doctors prescribe it for the weak and sick. Used at all high-class health resorts. Delivered at homes on request by phone or mail. Sold at all cafes, saloons, hotels and buffets. Bottled only at brewery.

THE LION AND THE MOUSE.

By CHARLES KLEIN.

A Story of American Life Novelized From the Play by ARTHUR HORNBLLOW.

COPYRIGHT, 1906, BY G. W. DILLINGHAM COMPANY.

No one knew better that Kate that this was not true, but she said it partly out of vanity, partly out of a desire to draw out this Englishman who made such bold love to her.

"Miss Roberts," replied Mr. Bagley loftily, "in that note I expressed my admiration—my love for you. Your engagement to Mr. Jefferson Ryder is, to say the least, a most uncertain fact." There was a tinge of sarcasm in his voice that did not escape Kate.

"You must not judge from appearances," she answered, trying to keep up the outward show of indignation which inwardly she did not feel. "Jeff and I may have a passion that burns like a volcano. All lovers are not demonstrative, you know."

The absurdity of this description as applied to her relations with Jefferson appeared to her as so comical that she burst into laughter, in which the secretary joined.

"Then why did you remain here with me when the senator went out with Mr. Ryder, senior?" he demanded. "To tell you that I cannot listen to your nonsense any longer," retorted the girl.

"What?" he cried incredulously. "You remain here to tell me that you cannot listen to me when you could easily have avoided listening to me without telling me so! Kate, your coldness is not convincing."

"You mean you think I want to listen to you?" she demanded.

"I do," he answered, stepping forward as if to take her in his arms. "Mr. Bagley!" she exclaimed, recoiling.

"A week ago," he persisted, "you called me Fitzroy. Once in an outburst of confidence you called me Fitz."

"You hadn't asked me to marry you then," she laughed mockingly. Then, edging away toward the door, she waved her hand at him playfully and said teasingly: "Good by, Mr. Bagley. I am going upstairs to my room. I will await my father's return in her room. I think I shall be safe."

He ran forward to intercept her, but she was too quick for him. The door slammed in his face, and she was gone. Meantime Jefferson had proceeded upstairs, passing through long and luxuriously carpeted corridors with paneled frescoed walls and hung with grand old tapestries and splendid paintings, until he came to his mother's room. He knocked.

"Come in!" called out the familiar voice. He entered. Mrs. Ryder was busy at her escritoire looking over a mass of household accounts.

"Hello, mother! How's father?" he cried, running up and begging her in his boyish, impulsive way. Jefferson had always been devoted to his mother, and, while he deplored her weakness in permitting herself to be so completely under the domination of his father, she had always found him an affectionate and loving son.

Mrs. Ryder sighed while she looked her son over proudly. In her heart she was glad Jefferson had turned out as he had. Her boy certainly would never be a financier to be attacked in magazines and books. Answering his question, she said:

"Your father is as well as those busy-bodies in the newspapers will let him be. He's considerably worried just now over that new book, 'The American Octopus.' How dare they make him out such a monster? He's no worse than other successful men. He's richer, that's all, and it makes them jealous. He's out driving now with Senator Roberts. Kate is somewhere in the house—in the library, I think."

"Yes, I found her there," replied Jefferson dryly. "She was with that head, Bagley. When is father going to find that fellow out?"

"Oh, Jefferson," protested his mother, "how can you talk like that of Mr. Bagley? He is such a perfect gentleman. His family connections alone should entitle him to respect. He is certainly the best secretary your father ever had. I'm sure I don't know what we should do without him. He knows everything that a gentleman should."

"And a good deal more, I wager," growled Jefferson. "He wasn't groom of the backstairs to England's queen for nothing." Then changing the topic, he said suddenly: "Talking about Kate, mother, we have got to reach some definite understanding. This talk about my marrying her must stop. I intend to take the matter up with father today."

"Oh, of course, more trouble," replied his mother in a resigned tone. She was so accustomed to having her wishes thwarted that she was never surprised at anything. "We heard of your goings on in Paris. That Miss Rossmore was there, was she not?"

"That has got nothing to do with it," replied Jefferson warmly. He resented Shirley's name being dragged into the discussion. Then more calmly he went on: "Now, mother, be reasonable. Listen. I purpose to live my own life. I have already shown my father that I will not be dictated to and that I can earn my own living. He has no right to force this marriage on me. There has never been any misunderstanding on Kate's part. She and I understand each other thoroughly."

"Well, Jefferson, you may be right from your point of view," replied his mother weakly. She invariably ended by agreeing with the last one who argued with her. "You are of age, of course. Your parents have only a moral right over you. Only remember this: It would be foolish of you to do anything now to anger your father. His interests are your interests. Don't do anything to jeopardize them. Of course you can't be forced to marry a girl you don't care for, but your father will be bitterly disappointed. He had set his heart on this match. He knows all about your infatuation for Miss Rossmore, and it has made him furious. I suppose you've heard about her father."

"Yes, and it's a dastardly outrage!" blurted out Jefferson. "It's a conspiracy against one of the most honorable men that ever lived, and I mean to ferret out and expose the authors. I came here today to ask father to help me."

"You came to ask your father to help you?" echoed his mother incredulously. "Why not?" demanded Jefferson. "Is it true, then, that he is selfishness incarnate? Wouldn't he do that much to help a friend?"

"You've come to the wrong house, Jeff. You ought to know that. Your father is far from being Judge Rossmore's friend. Surely you have sense enough to realize that there are two reasons why he would not raise a finger to help him. One is that he has always been his opponent in public life, and the other is that you want to marry his daughter."

"Yes, I see now, mother. You are right." Then he added bitterly: "That has always been the trouble at home. No matter where I turn, I am 'up against a stone wall—the money interests. One never hears a glimmer of fellow feeling, never a word of human sympathy, only cold calculation, heartless reasoning, money, money, money! Oh, I am sick of it! I don't want any of it. I am going away where I'll hear no more of it!"

His mother laid her hand gently on his shoulder.

"Don't talk that way, Jefferson. Your father is not a bad man at heart. You know that. His life has been devoted to money making, and he has made a greater fortune than any man living or dead. He is only what his life has made him. He has a good heart, and he loves you, his only son. But his business enemies—ah, those, he never forgives!"

Jefferson was about to reply when suddenly a dozen electric bells sounded all over the house. "What's that?" exclaimed Jefferson, alarmed and starting toward the door. "Oh, that's nothing," smiled his mother. "We have had that put in since you went away. Your father must have just come in. Those bells announce the fact. It was done so that if there happened to be any strangers in the house they could be kept out of the way until he reached the library safely."

"Oh," laughed Jefferson, "he's afraid some one will kidnap him? Certainly he would be a rich prize. I wouldn't cure for the job myself, though. There'd be catching a tartar."

His speech was interrupted by a timid knock at the door.

"May I come in to say goodbye?" asked a voice which she recognized as Kate's. She had successfully escaped from Mr. Bagley's importunities and was now going home with the senator. She smiled amiably at Jefferson, and they chatted pleasantly of his trip abroad. He was sincerely sorry for this girl whom they were trying to foist on him. Not that he thought she really cared for him—he was well aware that hers was a nature that made it impossible to feel very deeply on any subject—but the idea of this ready-made marriage was so foreign, so revolting to the American mind!

He thought it would be a kindness to

"Don't be foolish, Kate," he said. "I was not blind just now in the library. That man is no good."

As is usual when one's motives are suspected, the girl resented his interference. She knew he hated Mr. Bagley, and she thought it mean of him to try and get even in this way. She stiffened up and replied coldly:

"I think I am able to look after myself, Jefferson. Thanks, all the same."

He shrugged his shoulders and made no reply. She said goodbye to Mrs. Ryder, who was again immersed in her tradespeople bills, and left the room, escorted by Jefferson, who accompanied her downstairs and on to the street, where Senator Roberts was waiting for her in the open victoria. The senator greeted with unusual cordiality the young man whom he still hoped to make his son-in-law.

"Come and see us, Jefferson," he said. "Come to dinner any evening. We are always alone, and Kate and I will be glad to see you."

"Jefferson has so little time now, father. His work and his friends keep him pretty busy."

Jefferson had noted both the pause and the sarcasm, but he said nothing. He smiled, and the senator raised his hat. As the carriage drove off the young man noticed that Kate glanced at one of the upper windows where Mr. Bagley stood behind a curtain watching Jefferson return to the house. The psychological moment had arrived. He must go now and confront his father in the library.

New Orleans, La., July 20.—A city jail was used Friday as a place of refuge for Mr. and Mrs. Monteleone, Italians released on habeas corpus proceedings after several weeks' imprisonment as suspicious persons in the Lamana case. Several hundred angry Italians surrounded the Monteleone house and a guard of 25 policemen failed to disperse them. The Monteleones were finally put in a patrol wagon and taken to a nearby police station. During the excitement, Peter Lamana, father of the kidnapped boy, with a revolver in his hand, made violent attempts to break through the crowd, saying he wanted to get at the Monteleones.

TORNADO AND RAIN DO GREAT DAMAGE

HOUSES SWEEPED FROM FOUNDATIONS AT ST. JOSEPH, MO.

MANY IN DEADLY PERIL

Missouri River Floods Basements and Ruins Market Gardens at Kansas City—Higher Water Expected.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 20.—A tornado and tremendous rain did heavy damage in St. Joseph and vicinity Thursday night. Houses were wrecked, street railway tracks torn out and cellars flooded. The family of Daniel Rlorian, one mile east of the city, had a remarkable escape from death. The residence, two stories in height, was torn from the foundation and demolished. Rlorian, his wife and three children had taken refuge in the basement. They were buried under debris, but the wind lifted the house bodily from the foundation and none of the heavy timbers fell on them.

Almost Swept Into the Missouri. Scores of houses were washed from their foundations in the city by the rain, which amounted to a cloudburst. St. Joseph nestles in hills and the force of the tornado was broken. Sewers could not carry off the water and raging torrents flowed through the outlying parts of the city.

Adam Zihowski attempted to wade one of these torrents. He was swept from his feet and carried toward the Missouri river two blocks distant. He caught a telephone pole and clung there 20 minutes until rescued by a party of men with ropes.

Flood Drives Out Families.

In Brookdale, a low-lying suburb, a score of families were driven from their homes by water, which reached the windows on the first floor. A dozen residences were struck by lightning, but no fatalities are reported. The home of Fred Shoemaker, where a funeral party was caught by the storm, was struck by lightning twice and several persons stunned.

Flood Hits Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—Further heavy rains north of here last night caused the Missouri river, at Kansas City, to rise a little higher and as a result the cellars in two dozen wholesale houses in the west bottoms were partially flooded Friday morning. Stocks had been removed to places of safety and the damage in this direction was slight.

Truck gardens at Quindaro, on the outskirts of Kansas City, along the Missouri river, have been flooded, causing damage estimated at $20,000, and several truck farmers with their families had to move to higher ground.

River Continues to Rise.

The stage of the Missouri Friday morning was 23 feet and, with the additional volume of water above here, Weather Observer Connor said that the river probably would rise gradually until Saturday night. If there are no further rains in the west and northwest for several days the Missouri will still be low enough to take care of flood waters without danger of serious overflow, Mr. Connor says. The Kaw is rising slowly also.

Ohio Village Devastated.

Zanoville, O., July 20.—Cannellville, a town of 300 inhabitants, eight miles south of this city, was almost wiped off the map by a flood Friday. Nearly all the inhabitants are employed in several mines in the vicinity. During the noon hour a cloudburst occurred a mile above the village and in a short time a raging torrent made its way down the narrow valley. No lives were lost.

TRIES IN VAIN TO DROWN.

Wooden-Legged Man Merely Sticks Fast in the Mud.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 20.—Peter Dubuque, a bartender of Osseo, Minn., jumped off the Plymouth avenue bridge Friday afternoon, but landed in only two feet of water and did not accomplish his anticipated death by drowning. Instead his wooden legs became so firmly stuck in the mud of the river bottom that he could not move it. His calls for help brought several laborers from their work in the neighborhood and after much effort he was rescued. The man was at once turned over to the police, and his mental condition will be examined.

Married Women

Every woman covets a shapely, pretty figure, and many of them deplore the loss of their girlish forms after marriage. The bearing of children is often destructive to the mother's shapeliness. All of this can be avoided, however, by the use of Mother's Friend before baby comes, as this great liniment always prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of her form. Mother's Friend overcomes all the danger of child-birth, and carries the expectant mother safely through this critical period without pain. It is woman's greatest blessing. Thousands gratefully tell of the benefit and relief derived from the use of this wonderful remedy. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Our little book, telling all about this liniment, will be sent free.

MIRACLE IN THE VATICAN.

Apparition of Blessed Virgin Solves Pope's Hesitation About Decree.

Rome, July 20.—A member of the pope's household in the course of an interview published Friday night says that Pope Pius hesitated somewhat before he took the grave step of ordering the publication of the syllabus with regard to the so-called modernism in the faith, but that all his doubts were removed by a miraculous apparition of the Blessed Virgin, which extended its hand in a gesture of benediction and encouragement over his head as if in answer to his prayer for heavenly guidance, and that the pontiff thereupon rose from his knees and signed the decree.

CHANGES CUSTOM OF INSPECTING BAGGAGE

Secretary Cortelyou Announces New Ruling Relating to Custom Inspection.

Janesville people who are European visitors will be glad to learn that Secretary Cortelyou has announced a new method of baggage examination which will be in operation in time to greet the home-coming European traveler this season. Soon after assuming office the secretary decided that the objectionable and embarrassing features of the examination should be done away with so far as possible within existing law. Acting under his instructions, Assistant Secretary Reynolds has worked out the details of the new system, which will take effect as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made, which, it is expected, will be about August 15.

There are two features in connection with the present examination of passengers' baggage that are especially the subject of complaint. One is the herding of all the passengers in the cabin of the steamship during the last hour of the trip in order to have declarations made out before a customs officer.

Such declarations made in the rush and confusion that mark the end of the voyage are unsatisfactory to the government officials and a certain source of annoyance to the passengers.

The other feature is the oath that has been required when the declaration is made which involves the proposition of compelling the passengers to make oath as to what foreign articles their baggage contains, and immediately thereafter searching his baggage to see whether or not he has told the truth.

The new system will change this. Declarations will be distributed to the passengers during the early part of the voyage and made out by them at their leisure.

The declaration will be simple and straightforward, and its instructions will tell the passengers to put down the different articles required by him while abroad, together with their cost or value.

Some time before the last day of the voyage these declarations will be collected by some officer of the ship, who will be held responsible both by the steamship company and the department for the work of seeing that such a written statement is received from each passenger.

When the customs officials board the ship in the harbor a deputy collector will get of the steamship officer all of the declarations made out and deliver them to the chief representative of the surveyor on the dock. When the declaration is handed to the steamship officer a coupon will be handed to the passenger, which will be his receipt and which will contain the same official number as the declaration itself.

After the baggage is landed and properly placed on the dock ready for customs inspection the passenger will present this coupon to the proper representative of the surveyor, secure the services of an inspector who will examine his baggage and verify the declaration previously made by him, on board ship.

No oath of any kind will be required. The steamship companies, it is said, will co-operate heartily with the department in carrying out the new system.

OPERATORS' STRIKE ENDS

MEN ACCEPT COMPROMISE OFFERED BY THE COMPANIES.

GO BACK AT OLD WAGES

Managers Promise No Advance But Will Receive Committee of Arbitration to Discuss Complaints.

Oakland, Cal., July 20.—At a meeting held in Oakland Friday the telegraphers' union voted unanimously to accept the terms of settlement proposed by the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies.

According to the terms of compromise, the telegraphers will return to work and then both telegraph companies will receive a committee of arbitration to discuss and settle matters affecting the telegraphers.

No Increase Promised.

San Francisco, July 20.—Superintendent Storer, of the Postal Telegraph company, and Manager O'Brien, of the Western Union, declared Friday that their companies had made no agreement with the operators in regard to an increase in wages. The men will be taken back on precisely the same terms that applied when the strike was called.

Statement by Clowry.

New York, July 20.—Col. Robert C. Clowry, president and general manager of the Western Union Telegraph company, Friday afternoon issued the following:

"The differences between the Western Union Telegraph company and its former employees at San Francisco and Oakland have been settled. On June 21 a portion of the Western Union operators at San Francisco and Oakland quit work without notice. About one-third of the force remained on duty and 11 of those who quit were reinstated on their individual applications at their former compensation. Additions were made to the force from other offices and except for a short period the traffic of the company has been moved promptly. The company will reemploy all reliable and efficient operators who left the service, on their individual applications, and at the salaries paid when they quit work."

For the Postal Company.

C. C. Adams, a vice president of the Postal Telegraph & Cable company, gave out the following:

"Edward J. Nally, vice president and general manager of the Postal Telegraph & Cable company, has just received word from L. W. Storer, general superintendent, San Francisco, that at a meeting held in San Francisco Friday afternoon, the strike operators voted 23 to 4, proposed to return to work, they having been notified that the terms upon which they returned would be that they should make individual application for reemployment, and all who were not objectionable to the local management would be reemployed, with the distinct understanding that the same salaries and same conditions existing prior to their walkout should govern their reemployment, and upon promise to give good and faithful service, and discontinue all agitation and interference with the company's business."

Champion Lady Shaver.

The champion "lady shaver" of the world, as she was known in London, is dead. Miss Nellie Wick was only 21 years old, but as she had been a barber since she was four years old, she had done almost a lifetime's work. Her father was known as the "lightning barber," and taught his daughter the art of shaving almost as soon as her fingers were long enough to twine around the handle of a razor. Her record performance was the shaving of 21 men in as many minutes.

What is the Charm? This advertisement appeared in a Swiss paper: "Hotel in a most picturesque site, a distance of a hundred meters from a police station. A physician is attached to the establishment, in which an abundantly supplied American bar presents such attractions that very few customers leave it of their own free will."

WORSE EVERY YEAR

Plenty of Janesville Readers Have the Same Experience.

Don't neglect an aching back. It will get worse every year. Backache is really kidney ache. To cure the back you must cure the kidneys.

If you don't, other kidney ills follow—Urinary troubles, diabetes, Bright's disease.

A Janesville citizen tells you how the cure is easy:

A Janesville citizen tell it for 'em. Thomas Burgess, millwright of 15 Park Ave., Janesville, Wis., makes the following statement concerning Doan's Kidney Pills:

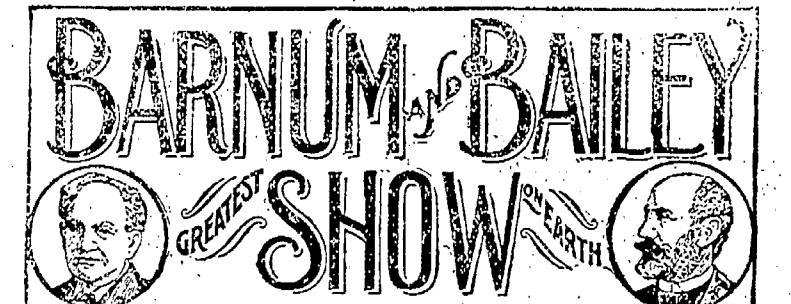

"I had a pain in my back for nearly ten years. A dull ache and done-out feeling often completely laid me up. It was very bad at night, and I have awakened from a sound sleep feeling as if a ton weight was lying on my back, and for a few moments I would be afraid to move for fear of sharp shooting pains which usually struck me at such times and went to the very quick. I had to use my hands and arms to turn over in bed; my back was weak. The urine was in very bad shape also, and gave me trouble at night as I had to get up a number of times to pass it. There was considerable sediment and the secretions were discolored. I had used a number of remedies at different times without apparent benefit. I at last decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the Peoples' Drug company, and soon after I began to use them I began to improve. In a few days the backache left me and as I continued the treatment the irregularities of the secretions were corrected and I have enjoyed better health ever since, having had no return of any form of kidney trouble."
